

Growing up with Cystic Fibrosis does not put any limits to what I can do...

I traveled to the Galapago Islands a few years ago and experienced some wonderful adventures such as snorkeling, hiking to beautiful waterfalls, and see many tortoises up close.

...and I never stopped doing my treatments
and medications so I can remain healthy

Colorguard is my favorite sport that I fell in love with and is my main outlet for exercise to keep my lungs healthy and strong.

Last year, I worked really hard during marching season and we headed up to state championships. We won first place and best colorguard!!

Volunteering at an animal shelter has given me not only the opportunity to work with animals but also strengthen my mental health. This opportunity validated my dream of becoming a Veterinarian since I was a little kid.

Studying at Auburn University will help me achieve those dreams.
